BLUE AND GRAY AT MANASSAS

Former Foes March Across Fields
Once Flowing With Gore—Spectacle Unique in History.

Manassas, Va., July 21.—The Blue and Gray marched across the fields of Manassas to meet each other again today. This incident, unique in history, the meeting of Federal and Confederate veterans on the field where they fought a mighty battle just fifty years ago, attracted as witnesses the president of the United States, the governor of Virginia, the home of the Confederate capital, and visitors from many states.

It was the crowning feature of the Manassas Peace Jubilee and Reunion which began last Sunday with a sermon on the court house lawn by Rev. H. N. Couden, chaplain of the House of Representatives, who lost his sight while serving in the Union ranks.

President Taft and Gov. Mann long ago had accepted invitations to be the guests of honor of the day, to review the lines of gray-haired veterans and make addresses in the afternoon. In the evening they met the old soldiers and other visitors at a public reception.

The following program had been arranged for the day:

9 a. m.—Veterans in blue and gray assemble at Henry House, on battlefield.

10 a. m.—Addresses of Welcome by Col. Edmund Berkeley, 8th Virginia, and United States Senator Thomas S. Martin, of Virginia.

Responses by Gen. John E. Gilman, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and General George W. Gordon, grand commander of the United Confederate Veterans.

Presentation of souvenir badges by Col. Robert H. Thompson, of Washington.

Noon—Veterans marshaled in review, and the men in the blue and the gray clasp hands.

1 p. m.—Luncheon.

2 p. m.—Return to Manassas.

4 p. m.—Forty-eight young women, representing the states of the Union, clasp hands, and, forming a circle, sing the Manassas National Jubilee Anthem.

4:30 p. m.—Addresses by the President of the United States and the governor of Virginia.

6:30 p. m.—Luncheon tendered to President Taft and Governor Mann by Mrs. Robert A. Porter at Annaburg.

7:30 p. m.—Public reception of the president and governor at Annaburg.

fifty years ago last Friday, that Bull Run, or the battle of Manassas, was fought. The Confederates under Johnson were accredited with a decisive victory over the union forces under McDowell, the defeat of the Federals leaving practically a clear road to Washington for the Confederates, it is said, had they chosen to continue their advance on the capital. This was the first real battle of the war, and its results awakened the North for the first time to a realization of what the secession of the Southern states meant. It was here that "Stonewall" Jackson gained the name which will be associated with his memory for all time.

In August, 1862, Manassas was again the scene of a bloody battle, Lee and Longstreet and Sykes. Reno and Reynolds fought to a draw, the battle lines being exactly the reverse of what they were the year before.

The Jubilee Reunion was planned by committees of the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans. Interesting events have taken place each day this week, sessions of the national organization of "The Blue and the Gray and Their Sons" being held today.

The Manassas National Anthem, adopted by the committee, was written by Mrs. Mary Speed Mercer, of Elm City, N. C. This is the chorus: "America, all hail to thee. Thanks be to God who made us free.

North, South, East, West, hand clasped in hand,
United we, thy children, stand."

What The Papers Say About Our Representatives:

Hon. M. F. Pogue For Speaker Says Dixon Journal.

Hon. M. F. Pogue, of Crittenden county, has been renominated by the legislative district of Crittenden and Livingston counties. Mr. Pogue has had considerable experience in legislative matters, and his district has shown good judgement in selecting him to represent them again. Mr. Pogue is honest, and will make a hard working, painstaking and efficient representative. We think he would make a good speaker, and we suggest his name to the democratic caucus for said position, the people of his district will surely elect him. —Dixon Journal.

M. F. Pogue Renominated.

Marion F. Pogue has been renominated by the Democrats for Representative from the Crittenden-Livingston district, and he will be welcomed back in the next House. He was one of the most influential members of the last House, being a member of the important Rules Committee. He has served several terms as Assistant Clerk of the House and is up to all angles of the legislative game. —Louisville Times.

The Democrats of Livingston and Crittenden counties have acted very wisely in nominating Hon. M. F. Pogue to again serve them in the House of the next Kentucky Legislature. With a thorough knowledge of his duties, and a man of the purest honor and of splendid ability, he is just the man that the people need to serve them at Frankfort, and if he is not elected, the people of his district will never regret it but once. Here's to Pogue! —Caldiz Record.

TWINS MARRY TWINS

Wore Different Flowers So As To Distinguish Each Other.

Austin, Tex., —Missouri twins married Texas twins at San Marcos, thirteen miles south of here. The brides were Alma and Alta Moore and the bridegrooms were Leland and Loran Tablor, of Adrian, Mo. An interesting feature of the wedding is that the brides resembled each other so closely that intimate friends cannot tell them apart and the bridegrooms look as much alike as two peas. The brides were dressed alike, as were the bridegrooms. To distinguish one from the other different flowers were worn. The two couples left together on a bridal trip and will be at home in Adrian, Mo., in about two weeks. They will occupy adjoining new houses exactly alike.

The circumstances of the courtship are romantic. The young men heard about a year ago of the twin girls and this led to correspondence and exchange of photographs. Last Christmas the young men came to see the girls and became engaged.

Livingston Banner Items.

A general all round knock down and drag out accompanied with "razor carving" in real coon style was pulled off near Salem last Saturday night. When the smoke cleared away one negro was dead and several wounded and later several were under arrest awaiting the final action of Squire Stevens on the examining trial.

Bill and Harve Forman, Turner Blaine and Jim Thurman were landed safely in jail for killing Frank Moss near Salem last Saturday night. Blaine was turned loose Tuesday morning, he being only a witness, and the examining trial of the other three was set by Judge Clark for next Friday morning at seven o'clock.

H. V. McChesney is having a pretty nice little spell of malarial fever at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. T. D. Presnell, at whose home he and family are visiting. Then intended to have returned to their home in Frankfort last Wednesday but cannot do so until Mr. McChesney improves.

DINING ROOM

THERE is a great deal more than is usually considered in the proper appointment of a dining room, for this is the one room in the house from which emanates true home cheer. Did you ever think of this in regard to your own dining room--whether it is cheerful, whether it is all that it might be. If there is anything lacking, come in and see how it maybe remedied by the selection of a few good pieces; or what a complete change something new for something old, would create; and you will agree with us that our opinions in regard to dining rooms are not to be disregarded. Webuy nothing but cheerful furniture, which belongs in cheerful surroundings, so we can't sell you anything else. Come in. See how inviting it is.

He, who sits down and says, "we can't" never did anything, never will do anything and never deserves anything. But such people are always ready to make use of and enjoy that which is received by the persistent efforts of others. They are always in favor of good schools, good roads, good bridges, good men in office, yet they pinch the eagle off of the school dollar they pay for the education of their children and send a ten year old boy to work the road in their place and as to bridges, they prefer a foot-log to a modern up-to-date bridge unless some one else has built it. They never help to select good men for office, but after the selection is made and proves to be a bad one, they cry out, "I told you so."

No Reason For It

When Marion Citizens Show The Way.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the danger of serious kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that these ills can be cured. Read what a Marion citizen says:

W. I. Tabor, Marion, Ky., says: "I suffered for ten years from kidney trouble. There were severe pains in the small of my back and I was unable to sleep well, arising in the morning, feeling lame and sore. I was always tired, languid and nervous, headaches were common and I also suffered from dizzy spells. My kidneys were disordered and the kidney secretions passed too frequent. It was finally my good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store. I used them and in three weeks was greatly relieved. Thus encouraged, I continued taking this remedy and the contents of one box effected a complete cure. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to any one suffering from kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. Jy 20-27.

GOING SPRINGS

Mrs. Yandell of this section, was thrown from her horse last week at Rochester bridge. She was painfully injured, getting one rib and shoulder broken and other bruises. She is improving slowly.

M. W. Terry was the host of relatives from Dawson Sunday. Mrs. Ira C. Hughes is confined to her room with nervous trouble.

Going Spring school house is in a critical condition. Some people say it needs roofing and painting; others say it doesn't need repairing. We think it does because Miss Mary Finley will teach there and it is a shame to put such a nice lady in a dilapidated house.

Henry Farmer has a nice crop and will soon finish laying by his corn.

Will Howerton, accompanied his little nephew, Bassett Newcom, home Saturday.

Ira C. Hughes and Dutch Carter went to Bill Nation's fishing Saturday.

The boys of this section are through threshing wheat.

This section furnishes a goodly number of lambs for the stock yard.

Much wheat from this neighborhood has been deposited in the Marion mill, Saturday.

Several from this section attended the Sunday School celebration at Repton Tuesday. They had a nice time and plenty of dinner on the ground.

Several tourists passed through this section Wednesday in an automobile.

Many from here attended the Farmers' Union meeting Thursday.

Rather late one night last week as me and my old gray horse were jogging along at a lively pace with no sound but the rustle of the leaves as they were stirred by the evening breeze, the hoot of an owl or the croak of a frog in some distant pond—But hark, what is that glad refrain as it is wafted on the air just as the moon peeped through its bed of silvery clouds? The object from whence came the sound, was plain to be seen. It was Cassy Cook singing "My darling has come home, my darling has come home."

Wonder how Ira Hughes felt while he was taking it so easy in the indian camp.

PILES! PILES! PILES!

Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and itching of the private parts. Druggists, mail 50c and $1.00. Williams Mfg. Co., Props., Cleveland, O. Sold only by J. H. Orme.

WESTON

We have a fine prospect for corn in this vicinity.

We had a nice rain July 10th, and also July 16th, which was badly needed.

Hay was a little short, but a very fair crop. We should not grumble.

M. A. Wilson has finished bailing hay, and has moved his bailer over on O'possum Ridge.

Miss Mabel Wilson, Green's Chapel, was the guest of Gertrude Rankin Saturday, and did some shopping while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Nile O'Neal, of Cross Lanes, were here Saturday shopping.

Reed Clark, of Fairview, Ill., is here visiting relatives and friends.

C. W. Grady contemplates going to Missouri to visit his sisters Mesdames Anna Crider and W. D. Cain.

Man Crider and wife, of Mattoon, were here Friday.

Prof. Ward moved to our city recently. He will teach our school. We are proud to get such a worthy teacher. Now parents let's put our shoulder to the wheel and help our teacher and we will have a successful school. It takes that to make it a success.

Earl Huston and sister, Earin, of Smiths Mills, who have been the guests of the Misses Bennett for the past month, left for their home Sunday.

J. L. Mattingly and wife attended the Farmers' Union speaking at Marion Friday.

Ranzy King, of Rodney, was here Saturday.

Miss Tenie Plew, of near Tolu, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Roy Hughes.

J. N. Swansey and family visited at the home of H. L. Sullivan, of Rodney, Sunday.

Will Winn and wife spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Curg Hughes.

James Mattingly and family spent Sunday with his brother, Bud, of Hazel Bend, Union Co.

G. D. Hughes took a nice load of sheep to Marion Saturday.

The government and dredge boat of which Roy Mickie Hughes is employed, is working just above Weston and the boys are very much tickled to be at home.

Aunt Liza Lucas died July 10. She lived a faithful christian to the end, and will be greatly missed in our town.

Rossie Barnes and Raymond Sheeley passed through here Saturday enroute to O'possum Ridge school house to attend an ice cream supper, which was given for the benefit of the Sunday School.

Kill More Than Wild Beasts.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back if not satisfied. Only 50 cents at Haynes & Taylor's and J. H. Orme's.

A Torpid Liver is a fine field for the Malarial Germ and it thrives wonderfully. The certain result in such cases is a spell of Chills.

HERBINE

Is a Powerful Chills Tonic and Liver Regulator.

It puts the liver in healthy, vigorous condition and cures the chills by destroying the disease germs which infect the system. Herbine is a fine antiperiodic medicine, more effective than the hydropy mixtures that sicken the stomach; because it not only kills the disease germs, but acts effectively in the liver, stomach and bowels, thus putting the system in condition to successfully resist the usual third or seventh day return of the chill. Herbine is a cleansing and invigorating medicine for the whole body.

PUBLIC SPIRIT.

The character of any town is determined by its permanent not its transient citizens. Most of the people living in this town either have lived or will live here during a good part of their lives. These people are therefore largely answerable for the town's past and its future. If they are enterprising and broad minded the town as a political unit will adopt an enterprising and broad gaged policy. Making one's home is not wholly comprised in the building of a house on a lot with a fence around it and a walk in front. Of necessity the influence within the home are of paramount interest to the head of a family. But the influences outside of the home—the atmosphere of the community—is almost as important to the individual home maker as is the atmosphere of his fireside.

No citizen can safely live for himself alone. He is one of the component parts of his community and—whether he be active or passive—he exerts a potent influence in determining its character. Knowing as everybody does know, that early environment leaves a permanent impress upon the child it is difficult to explain the difference of citizens with respect to their part in making the environment in which they, their children and their neighbors' children spend the formative period of their lives. Time out of mind everybody has talked of the importance of a proper moral, mental and spiritual atmosphere. But why not give due consideration to the business atmosphere? Merchants and their patrons recognize the value and importance of individual business enterprise, but they often overlook the value and importance of community enterprise. Every community is organized for business purposes—to carry on the public business of its citizens. The methods, the economy and effectiveness with which the business of this community is conducted depend upon the enterprise of the community's business managers—public officials. The character of these officials is determined by the character of the citizenship of this community. If we want the public business conducted in an enterprising and efficient manner we must elect enterprising and efficient men to office and we must support them in their work. To do this all good citizens must show their interest in the public's business to the extent of learning what shall be done, how it should be done and whether it is being properly done. To do this is to be broad gaged, public spirited and enterprising citizens.

What Is A Gentleman?

Too frequently a man wearing good clothes and spending money freely is called a gentleman, when as matter of fact he is no such thing. Even satan has been called a gentleman because of his suavity of speech and engaging manners. There isn't a villain on the stage but is handsome, well dressed and of charming appearance. A stage villain that was not polished would be a failure from the very start.

It is not the clothes or the sauvity or the education or the birth that makes the gentleman. There is many a Bill Sykes in fashionable coat and patent leathers, and many an Admiral Crichton in greasy overalls and jumpers. There are those who will deny that a man who drinks coffee from his saucer or eats his peas with a spoon is a gentleman. Others will say that the man who fails to take his hat off in an elevator when ladies are present is no gentleman. Again, giving up a seat in a street car may be made the test. There are a thousand and one qualifications for the title. It matters not whether the man is in jeans or denim or broadcloth, or whether he has ten cents in his pocket or $1,000,000 in the bank, he is a gentleman if he is kind, clean, considerate, honest and brave.—Savannah News.

Marshall Weldon Gathered

Weldon of Little Rock, Arkansas. Mr. Weldon was a christian gentleman and was a member of the Baptist church for many years. The funeral was preached by his pastor, Rev. M. E. HERE AND THERE

A DREAM.

Hello, Rulia, where are you from? Just came in from one of the small towns in southeast Missouri and we rode one of those airships back, and just tell you she is the swiftest bird that sails through the air and you just ought see her as she cuts her way through the upper plains with her feather edge and in fact, it is wonderful, going over two miles a minute; sailing in the air, leaving Dexter, Mo., at 8 a. m., and reached here at 9:30. That's going some. We were like old lady, who rode on the train the first time. She said to the passengers "is this me or am I somebody else." So I am thinking, is this "meself." We just simply come in a whiz, over the tallest trees, towns, villages and cities, then with a bound upward we would shoot over the highest hills then suddenly, like the evening bat diving after the coddle fly, we would go downward. Then it appeared like we were falling and the gallant hero at the helm would call out "don't catch to the railings." We heard the ringing of a bell and we awoke. And we thought, such is life: and we are traveling rapidly from the cradle to the grave. Sometimes we are sailing with ease, then, there is a sudden turn—here we go up then we come down—then there is some one telling us what not to do. Don't stay in the parting of the ways. Sometime this is a good spirit speaking to us, and some times it is an evil spirit. But this old ship of life must keep going and we must be able to discern the evil temptations from good. Press on Bro. Jenkins, we are now thinking of our many friends in town and country, who are very near death's door, whose vitality of life has just about given away. They are confined to an invalid's bed, many are just waiting, gloriously waiting to take passage on the old "Ship of Zion." May we all look to the mark of high calling, which is in Christ Jesus, is our prayer and admonition. J. B. M.

AGED RIVERMAN TO SPEND MONEY BY EASY STAGES

Hunter Ben Jenkins Will Dispose of $500 Inheritance At $35 a Month.

St. Louis, July 19.—Hunter Ben Jenkins, veteran riverman, who received a $500 bequest in the will of Capt. George W. Belt, has assigned it to Charles M. Berkley, for safe keeping. Berkley is to pay Jenkins $35.00 a month until the fund is exhausted. Jenkins says he distrusts his own ability to care for the money.

My proclivity for failing to preserve funds being well known. He declares he is virtually without resources. Horatio W. Belt, nephew of Capt. Belt, assigned $1,000 left him to August W. Bensiek, but gave no reason. The late Will S. Hays, of Louisville, remembered Hunter Ben Jenkins on each anniversary with a felicitous poem.

Cairo Church May Be Sold.

Cairo, Ky., July, 27.—The probabilities are that the old Presbyterian church building at this place will be sold some time in the near future. It is understood that there are two bidders for the property, the Masonic order and the M. W. A. Some members of the Masonic order think that the Masons should buy the old building and grounds, making a nice building and a kind of park about the building.

This old church building is one of the historic buildings of the little town, and the old bell that still hangs up in the cupola is one of the best bells in this part of the state. It can be heard for miles and has a fine tone. Citizens do not want the bell taken from the town, and it likely will not be sold to anyone who would move it from the community.

Conclusion.

"Why of course," answered Joe, "you most certainly may. When you feel so disposed, why, just dictate away. I'm so glad it's not Green you're to so dictate to. So my ears shall always be wide open to you.
"Well first I will say, then," began Imogene.
"Just as I quit the boss and his writing machine, I want you, Joe, to leave that detestable hod, And go back to the farm and to turning the sod.
"Why should you, Joe, be always a-lifting up hods? And why not, Joe, go back to the hopping of clods? Just give back that old hod to the Man-At-The-Top. And let Green take it up—or else let the work stop?"

And so Joe left the town—for the country he hied. Left the Man-At-Top—with his hod cast aside Just like his dear wife, the bright-eyed Imogene, Left the bald-headed boss and the writing machine.

So he took up the shovel, the rake and the hoe; Used the ax and the pitch-fork, the spade and the froe; Went to sowing and reaping; to steering the plow; To driving the mules and to milking the cow.

So the two were now happy; his wife, Imogene— She became an expert on the sewing machine— Had her Leghorns and Brameas and fine Plymouth Rock, And would let Joe keep none but the finest of stock.

So a year passed away and then came little Dan— He was named of course after the Bald-Headed Man— To enliven their home and to add to their joys— (His weight was just nine pounds avoirdupois!)

And a bright, lovely babe was this same little Dan— He in no wise resembled the Bald-Headed Man— "I think, don't you, mamma," said Joe, "can't you see That his ears and his nose look exactly like me?"

"Say, Green—ha! ha! ha!" laughed the Bald-Headed Man. "The problem is solved! I've just formed a new plan! Since you, Green—ha! ha!—failed to get Imogene, I'll just give little Dan that new writing machine!"

Edens fell on her head and was unconscious for several minutes. She was taken home. A physician says the wounds will not be serious. Clark escaped uninjured. The vehicle was smashed.

MY DAUGHTER WAS CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"I send you here with the picture of my fifteen year old daughter Alice, who was restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was pale, with dark circles under her eyes, weak and irritable. Two different doctors treated her and called it Green Sickness, but she grew worse all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking three bottles she has regained her health, thanks to your medicine. I can recommend it for all female troubles."—Mrs. L. A. CONKERN, 1103 Rutland Street, Baltimore, Md.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Cleanliness is Next to Godliness.

BY T. A. FRAZIER, Health Officer.

The germs of some of the most common as well as some of the most loathsome diseases are frequently found in the mouth. In such cases anything which is moistened by the saliva of the infected person may, if it touches the lips of another, convey disease. The more direct the contact the greater the danger. It is the purpose of health officials to keep in isolation all persons having communicable diseases during the time that they are contagious or infectious; but in many cases this is impossible. Little restraint is put on the milder forms of these contagious diseases and even sometimes they are unrecognized until the whole community is exposed; in such cases the chief vehicles of contagion are the secretions from the mouth and nose. We know we can do much to prevent contagion by enforcing habits of cleanliness; but if such measures are to be effective we must keep everlastingly at it. The parents and teachers must notice and correct violations of these rules as habitually as if the child's life depended on their enforcement, and many times life depends upon the enforcement of very simple rules. Tuberculosis is an infectious disease; it is the most widespread of all diseases; it is the cause of one death out of every five, it is invariably transmitted from one person to another, not directly as measles or scarlet fever; but germs are expectorated on the floor or ground or other places where the sputum dries, get the germs into the air and we breathe them into our lungs, and thereby contract the disease with all its horrible consequences, or children may contract this disease by exchanging gum, eating off the same apple, the same pie or cake, coughing or sneezing in another's face or in many other ways. Even if the question of disease did not enter the subject of cleanliness ought to be given more attention by the average parent or teacher. Our children should not only be taught reading, writing or Arithmetic and Grammar; but is quite as important that they should be taught cleanliness, decency and refinement. Cleanliness should be taught for its own sake even if it had no relation whatever to health.

Teach the child not to spit on the floor or pavement. Not to put the finger in the mouth.

Not to pick the nose. Not to wet the fingers with saliva when turning the leaves of a book.

Not to put pencils in the mouth or moisten them with the lips.

Not to make a pin cushion of the mouth.

Not to use it for a purse.

Not to put anything in the mouth but food and drink.

Not to swap apple cores, candy, chewing gum, half-eaten food, whistles, bean blowers or anything that is habitually put in the mouth.

Teach the children to wash the hands and face often. See that they keep clean. If a child has a communicable disease there is less chance of infecting others if the hands and face are washed clean, than if they are daubed with the secretions of the nose and mouth.

Teach the children to turn the face aside when coughing or sneezing, if they are in the presence of others.

Children should be taught that bodies are their own private possessions, that personal cleanliness is a duty, that the mouth is for eating, drinking, and speaking and should not be used as a pocket, and the lips should not take the place of the fingers.

Use the individual drinking cup, especially in school or at public gatherings. In every public gathering will be found people suffering of some communicable disease. If you eat and drink after other people you are liable to become infected with some disease that will accompany you to your grave, and hasten your entrance into the realm of the unknown.

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but of vastly more importance in the long run is the internal cleanliness.

This is one point that all should watch about their body—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. To do this you must have one or two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, the process of eating and drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After finding out that cathartics, salts and such things relieve you for a day, but bind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. Use it as directed and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowel muscles to again work naturally at certain hours—then buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing. They began with a sample bottle, then bought a fifty-cent bottle, and now, fully convinced of its merits, they buy the one dollar family size. All the members of the family can use it down to the very youngest.

A brief use of this grand laxative tonic will cure constipation in its worst form, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such ailments and keep you in continuous good health at a very small cost. Such is the experience of many families like that of Mrs. Oscar Plesner, Unionville, Ind. J. F. Daniel, Hamon, Tex., and hundreds of others that could be named.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. In your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For full particulars the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

NEW SALEM.

A fine rain Sunday which was much needed and for which we feel very thankful.

The dust is settled.

We have the promise for a few roasting ears.

Everyone was about to give up.

Wheat threshing is over. More wheat threshed in this section than any year in the last ten years.

Judge Mahan and wife were the guests of relatives near Levas Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Florence Wolford left on the 13th, for a two months' visit to her parents at Dawson, Minn.

Mrs. Florance Harpending and children returned to their home at Salem Friday after a week's visit at the home of her father-in-law.

There was a drop of 40 degrees in our section in 36 hours.

Uncle Sam Wolford killed in his yard one day last week, 56 snakes. Now, the man that even hints that this is not the truth, and the whole truth, had better not let uncle Sam get a hint of it. We had rather face Grant's army, than to even think or doubt it. There is one thing certain, that outside of the preachers, there will not be a prohibition vote cast in fifty years in two miles of Sam Wolford's residence.

Our friend, Wm. Hudson, of Salem, was in our section last week on business.

GIVE WOMAN THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE

An Able Speech Delivered by Miss Henri Easley In a Recent Contest.

That women should have the right of suffrage, is a question that should be more widely thought of and talked about in our country today. Are people going back to the time when women were not recognized as on the equal with men, no! Women should be considered on the equal plain with men in political, educational and social affairs.

Compare the men and women of today, mentally and morally, and see if you don't find that the greatest work performed is by women. Some of our finest books were written by women, some of the greatest rulers, physicians, ministers, lawyers, teachers are women. They have been capable of filling the place of man, so why should they not be given the right of suffrage. It is not true that woman isn't as well educated as man for they are able to fill any place held by man. Woman has an equal right in everything except suffrage and why not give her that?

One would say a woman's place is at home but how long would it take a woman to go to the polls, cast her vote and return to the bosom of her family. Mrs. Adams holds that the right of suffrage is necessary in order for the house wife to perform her duties correctly. Our opponent may say that a woman should stay at home in her place. But it certainly is her duty to see that her country grows wiser and better and if she is interested in her country, as most every woman is, why not give her the right for which she is fighting.

If women want the right of suffrage what right has man to object? It only shows the spirit of determination to make the country better on the woman's part. Men say that women are trying to take their places, but this is a false statement, she only wants rights equal to him, and this untrue statement is depriving woman of the right justly due her.

We ask this question, why should women not have the right to vote? Are they not on an equal with man, do they not have to obey the laws same as man? Then why should they not help make them? But our opponent may say that mother's place is at home, taking care of her children. But let me ask this question, how is a mother to train her children in political life when she knows nothing of it and will not as long as she is denied the right of suffrage.

Another question concerning this subject, is, if women vote they should pay taxes, sure if women were given the right to vote she would not mind to pay taxes and what is a few taxes to pay when you have the liberty to cast your vote for whom you desire to run your country's affairs. All widows that own property are compelled to pay taxes, and the majority of women are widows, (and a great many that are not might as well be.) They could find it easy enough to pay their taxes. When the women are deprived of the right to vote it is on the same principle as Taxation without Representation. Our civil government tells us that a man cannot have any interest in his country and is not a good citizen when he does not vote. Don't the women of today want and need to be good citizens?

Women can do effective work in hospital work, in homes for the poor and sick, in charitable work and all those concessionary and palliative measures in which they find their sympathies much more readily enlisted to the liquor traffic, she hates the saloons and fears its menace to her home and men folk.

A man's only excuse for not wanting a woman to vote is, it isn't a woman's place to have anything to do with laws and election of officers, for her place is within the walls of her home tending to her home duties. If men were as willing and ready to take in washing and hire out in order that they may pay the grocery bills and support the family," my, how nice things would be at home and how well he will perform the duty that he swears before man and God he will do. Our opponents may say that a woman would be compelled to lose all the modesty and refinement she possessed because of having to mix and mingle with different classes of people at the polling place. But anyone knows that a woman isn't compelled to mix and mingle with different classes of people at the polling place any more than she would at any other public gathering. But even if she does it won't hurt her. If she ever had any modesty or refinement before, what little time she is at the polls will not compel her to lose it, and in place of the woman's presence at the polls being a downfall to her and the people it will cause the men to be more civil and because of her presence at the polls cause them to keep down rudeness. But some say women would always be quarrelling over politics. It has been found in countries where women vote that there is no more quarrelling over politics by husbands and wives, brothers and sisters than there is over baseball, ball games and the latest fashions. If women had the right of suffrage she would do away with some of the laws that now exist, which men do not raise a hand in protest.

If you can trust a deaf and dumb, a drunkard and illiterate white man or negro who can't even write their names can you not trust your mothers, sisters and wives with the right for which they are fighting and should have. So for the good of the country and masculine race give the woman the right of suffrage.

It is very easy to see why the men object to woman suffrage, they know if women had the ballot the saloons, gambling rooms and many other places useless to mention which are pleasure seeking places for men, would be put out of existence if women were granted this right.

But some may argue that the voting of woman would only be a waste of time, for they would vote as their husband or father do, but we say this isn't true in every case; for instance, do you believe if a woman's husband or father were to vote saloons, she would ask their consent and do likewise? No, almost every woman no matter what her mind and manners, is bitterly opposed

SUSPECT FOUND DEAD

Harlan Whittaker, Implicated in Goebel Killing, Said to Have Been Assassinated.

Morgantown, Ky., July 24.—Harlan Whittaker, whose name became known throughout the State by reason of his arrest in connection with the murder of Senator William Goebel, was found dead in a thicket on his farm near this place. Death is said to have been caused by heart trouble. A Coroners jury passed upon the case and returned a verdict of death from natural causes, although rumors were heard that he had been assassinated.

Whittaker was found by his wife after a search of several hours. He had been cutting bushes and shrubs on the edge of one of his cornfields all afternoon and at dinner time failed to return to the house. He was called repeatedly, but no answer came, and his wife and daughter set out to search for him. They had about given up the quest when the first rays of the lantern carried by the elder woman revealed the form of her husband, outstretched upon the ground.

There were no marks of violence on the body, and despite whispers that enemies may have

FORD THE FIRST CAR TO CLIMB BEN NEVIS

Scottish Mountain Had Never Before Been Negotiated by Vehicle.

What the English press declares to be one of the greatest hill-climbing feats in the history of the motorcar world was the ascent recently by a Ford Model T of lofty Ben Nevis, the highest peak in the British isles, says J. B. Banks, local agent for the Ford cars.

The Scottish mountain had never been negotiated before by any vehicle, except a wheelbarrow, and the announcement by P. I. D. Perry, the Ford Motor Company's London branch manager, that a Ford car could and would climb the perilous peak brought ridicule from motorcar experts of Britain.

The car made good, however, in the most thrilling climb, and on arriving back in Fort William, a little town in Scotland, situated at the base of the mountain, a half holiday was declared, the territorial pipers turned out, says the London Daily Telegraph, and the splendid achievement was celebrated for the whole day.

Henry Alexander, of Edinburgh, drove the Ford car up the mountain and down again, the trip up requiring seven days, but only 13½ hours of actual running time, the other time being spent in exploring for a route.

"The feat," says the London Telegraph correspondent, who was among the big delegation of newspaper men witnessing the achievement, "entailed a climb of seven miles over boulders, morasses, snowdrifts and over a pony track that consists of blocks of loose stones, and so narrow that a false turn of the steering wheel meant a fatal fall, which would have caused total destruction to the car and death to its driver."

The moving pictures of the wonderful feat, which soon will be shown in America, have already been seen by the Ford branch managers during their convention in Detroit, which just closed.

The pictures show that in many places the way had to be dynamited to get the car through hazardous passes.

"As for the car," writes the Telegraph correspondent, "the 20 h p Ford was absolutely undamaged during this phenomenal drive. Beyond having the brakes readjusted not a single replacement or repair was affected. This certainly demonstrated its excellent construction, as the car used was the ordinary Ford touring car, with its ordinary gearing. — Louisville Times.
